AT A STANDSTILL.

Engines Still Carefully Guarded by the Strikers.

The Company Has Not Attempted to Move its Trains.

Jay Gould Very Anxious About the Result of the Strike.

Engineers and Firemen Distrusted—The Situation Unchanged.

The Local Situation.

The strike among the Missouri Pacific yardsmen is no nearer settlement at the present time, so far as outward appearances indicate, than it was a week ago. The strikers are still confident that the trouble will be compromised, while the company emphatically declares that the men will never return to work if they wait for a settlement to be agreed upon. A member of the Knights of Labor said to a STAR reporter to-day: "I am candidly of the opinion that the trouble will soon end in a compromise. I don't see how it can end in any other way. The strikers mean business and they will win a victory. The trouble will not be compromised by the Texas Pacific company taking Hall back in its employ, but there are grievances against the Missouri Pacific that must receive attention. The company has not lived up to the agreement it made with the Knights of Labor a year ago, and that is the reason the men are out on a strike. The strikers have not talked much and the public has a wrong impression of their actions.

Superintendent Drake stated this morning that he could report nothing new in the situation. The company is still working to secure a switch engine and run it across the line where the police could protect it. When this is done an effort will be made to move trains. The strikers profess to believe the company will not make any such attempt, as it would meet with very strong resistance. The men say that they do not believe the police protection will amount to much; at least it will not be sufficient to enable the company to move its trains.

There was no material change in the scene about the yards this morning. A passenger engine stood near the State line depot and a number of strikers kept watch to prevent the engineer running it across the line. The men claim that the engineers will obey the Knights of Labor and if ordered to leave their engines will do so. This is a fact known to the company quite as well as it is to the strikers, and doubtless accounts for the failure of the road officials to get an engine across the state line. The freight trains are still standing where they were sidetracked when the men quit work, and no attempt has been made to remove the freight. Traveling men are beginning to complain at the failure of their customers to get the goods they ordered and think that some strong measure should be adopted to force the strikers to give up their close watch over the trains.

Jay Gould Very Anxious.

Special Telegram to The Star.

DALLAS, Tex., March 15.—Cipher dispatches were the order of the day at the headquarters of the receivers of the Texas & Pacific road, the parties to the correspondence it is learned, being John C. Brown and Jay Gould and most of the messages were passing between Dallas, Tex., and Jacksonville, Fla. Of course it is impossible to learn accurately what the contents of the dozen or more dispatches were that passed between the railroad king and his good man, Friday, but it easily surmised as the subordinate officials of the Texas & Pacific, particularly those in the receivers' department, were soon enquiring for any news that might be afloat as to what the engineers and firemen were going to do. Several prominent characters, who are closely associated in social and business relationship with Receiver Brown, were also alert. Among laboring men and newspaper representatives inquiring for "points" on the latest instructions from St. Louis, Kansas City and Sedalia, as to what attitude the engineers and firemen were to take, it appeared to be taken for granted that these brotherhoods hold the key to the situation and that they are liable at any moment to more seriously complicate the troubles of the railways by walking out. Putting this and that together the interpretation is given to the Gould-Brown correspondence that Gould's sudden materialization in Florida from Havana has been prompted by a desire to get in a position for a closer view of the situation; that he finds it worse than he expected; that his instructions to Brown and associates are to concede nothing unless the engineers and firemen join the strikers, but by all means to not let that occur, but to find a way out of the trouble through a patched up compromise, through the promise of early arbitration of existing differences. It is evident that the receivers and their associates feel that things are more seriously menaced by the Brotherhood than they had expected. It is also evident that no faith is being put in the "staying qualities" of the new men secured for the Texas & Pacific road, and shops, particularly since the treachery exhibited by the New Orleans contingent in the Marshall shops to-day. If the engineers and firemen strike it is evident Gould and Brown will throw up both hands. W. Woodson, a Dallas contractor, with a force of fifteen men, left last night for Marshall to take charge and run the railroad shops at that point. It was rumored here that United States Marshal Cabell was preparing to return to Baird with a force of deputies, but this could not be traced to any authentic source, and the general does not disclose his movements until they are made.

A Detective Caught Up.

ST. LOUIS, MO., March 16.—Knight Jack Williams yesterday went through the carpenter shops, and as he passed around hunting for the tools he had left there when the strike began, he saw one of Furlong's detectives, a man with whom he had formerly worked and whom he knew quite well. The detective did not see him, however, and about an hour after he had left the shops Williams was astonished to be accosted by him with an air of fraternity, and a question as to how the strike was progressing. This was followed by some leading questions upon the intentions of the strikers and then Williams determined to humor the fellow's plans a while and asked him who he was. The detective replied that he was one of the Broadway street car drivers, and was out looking at the strikers. The drivers intended themselves to strike shortly and he felt a fellow feeling for the shop men. Williams led him on to talk for awhile and then took him to a saloon where he left him for a minute with a glass of beer and called in a reporter and about a dozen other strikers. "Boys," he said, "I want to introduce to you one of Mr. Furlong's detectives. He's out here spying on us and has been trying to pump me." The detective was not only abashed but he was frightened and started to run but was caught by one of them and would have been roughly handled but for Williams, who released him and put him out of the side door of the saloon. The discovery of a detective among them spread around among the men rapidly and strangers approaching them now find them more reticent and than they were at the beginning of the strike.

Freight Handlers Take a Turn.

OMAHA, Neb., March 16.—It is rumored here that the Knights of Labor have ordered all employes on the Missouri Pacific in Omaha to refuse to handle freight or perform other duties, and that the order will go into effect to-day. Credence is lent to this rumor by the fact that yesterday the engines of several cars outbound stopped in the yards. As the employes of the Missouri Pacific at this point are few in number and the business here is comparatively light no serious trouble is expected.

Mill Men Strike.

GALVESTON, Tex., March 16.—A special from McKinney, Tex., says: The men employed at the McKinney oil mills struck yesterday for higher wages. The mills closed down and the strikers were discharged. Several employes who did not join in the strike were immediately suspended until a new force can be obtained.

Both Sides Stubborn.

ST. LOUIS, March 16.—There is no change in the situation this morning at the Missouri Pacific yards. Numbers of strikers congregated just outside the yards, but they maintain perfect quiet. An attempt to send out the Kirkwood accommodation this morning failed, the fireman deserting the engine before it was attached to the train and the engineer returned it to the round house. The situation in East St. Louis is unchanged, no strike having as yet occurred among the dissatisfied switchmen. Considerable anxiety is felt as to the outcome of this new complication, but railway officials generally express confidence in their ability to adjust matters before their employes determine to strike.

Aggressive Strikers.

Special Telegram to The Star

FT. WORTH, Tex., March 16.—The strikers on the Missouri Pacific assaulted a brakeman of that road pelting him with rotten eggs. Yardmaster Judy was also assaulted with the same kind of weapons. No arrests have been made. The strikers are becoming more aggressive and the people are becoming more restive. The whistle at the roundhouse of the Texas & Pacific yard was stolen sometime during last night. The strikers are boycotting everybody who in any way seeks to sustain the men now at work. A man named Taggert, who is boarding some of the "scabs," charges this morning that some one has "doctored" his well, whereby several members of his family have been made seriously sick. He does not accuse the Knights of Labor of doing this though he says they have boycotted him. The Chinese are gradually leaving here and going west. They are going in squads of two or three at a time. They decline to say why they are leaving but it is supposed on the streets that they have been privately instructed to depart.

Devoured by Wolves.

Special Telegram to The Star

FORT SMITH, Ark., March 16.—Last Thursday Will C. Bradford, a 5-year-old child, strayed from home in the mountains of the Cherokee nation. He was seen early in the morning playing in a ravine some distance from the house. The mother supposed he had gone to some neighbor's, and when night came she sent for him. He had not been there and the mother was alarmed. With her 10-year-old boy she started up the ravine in search of her child. They were joined by a neighbor woman and two boys, and spent all night in the mountains, a wild country where wolves are plentiful. The found the child next day six miles up the ravine. The wolves had stripped the flesh and picked the bones cleaned.

Short, But to the Point.

CHICAGO, March 16.—A report was circulated on 'change this morning that a general strike of engineers and firemen on the Burlington road would begin to-day or to-morrow. At the offices of the company the rumor was not believed, as the committee of locomotive engineers promised to wait until the arrival of Vice-President Potter on Thursday, to whom they will present their grievances.

The Times prints the following dispatch from Denver:

DENVER, Col., March 15.—Vice-President Potter, of the Burlington & Missonri River railroad, was telegraphed by striking Knights of Labor that the Knights on the Burlington would strike if his road did not stop doing business with the Missouri Pacific. Potter's reply to the telegram was short but pointed, it being: "Strike."

A Test Case.

NEW ORLEANS, March 16.—The striking shop men of the Texas & Pacific railroad at Gouldsboro succeeded last night in preventing the departure of a freight train. A hundred and fifty men surrounded the engineer. On application of Receiver Sheldon, Judge Billings, of the United States court, ordered Marshal Pleasants to afford the necessary protection to those in charge of the Texas & Pacific property. Deputy marshals were sent out at once for Gouldsboro and an effort will be made to run a freight train under the protectiod of the federal court. Sheldon states that they intend to test to the utmost the question of protection under the United States court.

Track Builders on the War Path.

CHICAGO, March 16.—The Evening Journal's Clinton, Ia., special says: Word is just received here from Savannah that about 800 track builders on the new Chicago, Burlington & Northern railway have struck. They compelled the engineers and firemen on construction trains to leave the cabs. The company is paying off strikers and they are drinking heavily and are all armed with clubs. No information has been received as to the cause of the strike.

An Engine Captured.

OMAHA, March 16.—The Missouri Pacific runs into Omaha over the Union Pacific tracks for a distance of eighteen miles. Yesterday an attempt was made to start a Missouri Pacific freight train out of this city, but five men captured the engine and made the engineer and fireman surrender. They then ran the engine back to the round house and put out the fire. The men who captured the engine are said to be employes of the Union Pacific and Knights of Labor.

In Consultation.

Special Telegram to The Star.

ATCHISON, Kas., March 16.—It is reported here that the officials of the Missouri Pacific and the committee of Knights of Labor are in session in Sedalia this afternoon. The adjourned meeting of the citizens of this city was postponed until to-morrow at 3 o'clock;

All Quiet at Atchison.

Special Telegram to The Star.

ATCHISON, Kas., March 16.—There is nothing new in the situation here to-day. Everything is quiet. The railroad company is making no effort to run trains, but the strikers continue to hold meetings every day, and say they are more determined than ever.

Gone to Work.

ST. LOUIS, March 16.—Receiver Brown, of the Texas & Pacific railway, telegraphs to Vice-President Hoxie that he has sixty-seven men at work in the Marshall shops. Thirty-four of them are old employes who struck, and he expects many more to-morrow. At Big Springs, Baird, and Ft. Worth he says they have men enough for present wants.

Buell and Grant at Shiloh.

In an article in the March Century General Buell says: "About half-way up we met a stream of fugitives, that poured in a constantly swelling current along the west bank of the river. The mouth of Snake creek was full of them swimming across. We arrived at the landing at about 1 o'clock. I inquired for General Grant, and was informed that he was on his headquarters' boat, nearly against which we had landed. I went on board and was met by him at the door of the ladies' cabin, in which there were besides himself two or three members of his staff. Other officers may have entered afterward. He seemed to realize that he was beset by a pressing danger, and manifested in manner more than in words that he was relieved by my arrival, as indicating the near approach of succor; but there was nothing in his deportment that the circumstances would not have justified without disparagement to the character of a courageous soldier. Certainly there was none of that masterly confidence which has since been assumed with reference to the occasion. After the first salutation, and as I walked to a seat, he remarked that he had just come in from the front, and held up his sword to call my attention to an indention, which he said the scabbard had received from a shot. I did not particularly notice it, and after inquiring about the progress of the battle and requesting him to send steamers to bring Crittenden's division, which was coming into the Savannah as I left, I proposed that we should go ashore. As we reached the gangway I noticed that the horses of himself and staff were being taken ashore. He mounted and rode away, while I walked up the hill; so that I saw him no more until the attack occurred at the landing late in the evening. I state these particulars of our meeting with so much detail because a totally incorrect version of the place, manner and substance of the interview has been used, to give a false impression of the state of the battle, and a false coloring to personal traits which are assumed to have had the issue in control."

A Youthful Bandit King.

From the Philadelphia Press.

A reign of terror which has been inaugurated at Chestnut Hill is over and the residents of that handsome suburb are resting with a feeling of security. An association of ruthless banditti, organized and recruited in the neighborhood, on the most approved dime-novel principles, has been disbanded, and the leader is in the clutches of the officers of the law.

Willie Streeper, the 10-year old son of Charles Streeper, of the Flourtown road, was hurrying along Bethlehem pike to school on Wednesday morning, carrying his lunch in a kettle and turning over in his pocket a silver 10-cent piece. At a lonely part of the road he was startled at the command to "stand and deliver!" A moment later he found himself surrounded by four fierce bandits in or nearing their teens. Captain Benjamin Todd, the 13-year old bandit king, pointed a revolver at his prisoner's head and cried:

"Your money or your life!"

Young Streeper precipitately dropped his lunch and books and was at first inclined to cry. He did not want to part with the dime, and faltered:

"I ain't got no money nor no life."

"That's what they all say," chorused the brigands, while their leader, uttering thrilling Mephistophelean laughs, clicked the revolver hammer twice.

The quaking lad whose knees were becoming weak and whose face gave indications of being about to cry, looked around to see if he could not make a dash for liberty.

The leader clicked his hammer once more and said:

"Produce or die."

Streeper at last doubled his stubby fists in his eyes and began to cry.

"Search him, men!" commanded the chief, and his merry men all rifled the victim's pockets and appropriated his silver coin, slatepencils and other valuables. Then he ordered him to go, but seeing his lunch-kettle they opened it, and confiscating its contents, permitted its owner to depart, warning him not to say a word about what had happened or his life should be the forfeit. While he ran off the band partook of the feast.

Young Streeper informed his parents of what had occurred, nevertheless, and Officer Joshua Greaves, of Chestnut Hill, started after "Captain" Todd, who had been recognized. Yesterday, well guarded by Officer Greaves, he was taken to Germantown and arraigned before Magistrate Brown, who held him in $800 bail for carrying concealed deadly weapons and assaulting and threatening to shoot young Streeper. Young Todd had stolen the revolver from his father.

AMONG ORANGE GROVES.

How a Yankee is Prospering—The Damage by Frost Exaggerated.

Special Correspondence to The Star.

CHULWOLA, Orange county, Fla., March 7.—One person was somewhat disturbed by the article headed "Frozen Florida" in your issue of Feb. 23. He is a Yankee, one of the kind that "gits rich raisin' vegetables," in cracker parlance.

The article, he admitted, was very true in all particulars—"but hang it all," he added, "they don't give the whole truth. As the cracker says 'they didn't know what would thaw first,' and they ought to have waited 'till they found out before giving in a report. The orange trees ain't killed at all; the little seedlings, which we all thought were shriveled up for good, are putting out ten new leaves for every one they have dropped, and all look promising. The limes and lemons and guavas are more tender than oranges, and the injury to them was worse; but they'll be up again in another year, so will bananas and pineapples. As for vegetables—but you come down to my place out here; I want to show you that Florida can stand a freeze once in fifty years without kicking a bit. I bought an old cotton plantation about a year ago, with an old log house on it; we're living there for awhile 'till I build elsewhere."

About a week thereafter, a party of us started for Mr. L's. The day was like Indian summer in the north; a characteristic Florida winter day. The freeze is over and gone, and only its effects remain in the decaying oranges under the trees, and the belated orange blossoms above, just peeping forth to see if the frost king really has ventured down into the sunny clime and wrought havoc with their predecessor.

A blue summer sky overhead; a blue haze over the further shores of the little lakes we pass on the way, whose sparkling waves reflect in deeper hues the color above them; myriads of blue and white violets in the grass below; rosebushes fairly covered with buds and blossoms in many dooryards; and sunny Florida is herself again. Our host first took us into his orange grove, which is not extensive, as in his own words he "has other fish to fry." The trees are old; in fact they were growing and bearing when Mr. T. bought the place. Many oranges lie worthless beneath the trees; but many more, bright and unharmed, still nestle among the rich dark foliage which makes an orange tree, with or without fruit or blossom, always a thing of beauty. Here is a branch loaded to the very ground with golden fruit—a study for a painter, surely, with its hues of ruddy gold and polished, glossy green. "I tell you," said their owner, vehemently, "in a year from now nobody will remember that 'Jack Frost' ever did any harm outside of his licensed limits, where his depredations go on every winter, while Florida basks in sunshine. Look at these orange blossoms; they had sense enough to wait till the old fellow had jumped into the gulf, and here they are sweet and safe and sound, and more coming." And they were sweet, white, waxen blossoms, in bridal-wreath sprays, with the same delicate fragrance that is wont to mingle with the strains of Mendelsohn's Wedding march.

Did you ever eat fresh strawberries from the vines in February? Truth compels me to state that I never have, for those in Mr. T.'s patch were not quite ripe enough to be palatable; but a few days of Indian summer sunshine and gentle April showers will make them quite perfect in form and color. Beyond the strawberries were rows of beans, tomato vines, fine heads of cabbage, turnips and radishes, cucumbers, crisp green lettuce, peas, Irish and sweet potatoes—in fact, about everything I ever saw raised on northern soil was represented here, in a greater or less degree.

Some of them had withstood the freeze; others had been well protected and so escaped; still others, less fortunate, had been frozen down and been planted again, with true Yankee determination and perseverance. Not a bit of blight anywhere in that garden; everything green and growing.

"Do you expect to ship much of this?" asks one of the party, "that is, this year?"

"None whatever. I am testing varieties and sowing seed this year; I am a new comer, like the rest of you. They told me I couldn't make any of these things bear; I might get them to grow, but I would have a crop of leaves and nothing else. Now, if these things ain't bearing"—pointing to the strawberries—"and these," triumphantly shaking a big new potato from a root he pulled from an adjoining hill. "But then," he added pensively," it's too hard work for the cracker. He plants things in a dry time because the soil is easier worked, and then if the seeds don't come up, or if they do and then die for want of a little moisture, he decides that 'you can't raise 'em.' Well, he'd better not bother, if he's got a bearing grove. When mine gets to bearing I'll take it easy. I've got 1,600 nursery trees, but while they're getting ready to bear—that'll be four years yet—I'll have something to live on here." "My! think of 1,600 trees as big as that one, with as many oranges on them!" said one of the ladies." "And at 5 cents a piece," said another.

The future millionaire obligingly explained that the oranges went to market in boxes holding from 128 to 156, some more and some less, at $2 per box. So you see the profit isn't so immense after the freight charges are paid; still the yearly income is quite enough to keep the wolf from the door. I've got a place way down on the upper St. John's—an island, formed by the bend of the river and a canal across the neck, where I shall raise all these things on a bigger scale, and get them shipped down the river to the Jacksonville hotels. Oh, it's a lonesome place now; nothing to be seen but palmettoes and vines and big birds wading around; but by the time I get my garden growing there'll be a steamboat running up these, you'll see.

"Come to dinner!" shouted a very strong pair of juvenile lungs, as a rosy, bareheaded and barefooted urchin appeared suddenly before us.

"Aha, you've been into my turnips again, you rascal!" at which the five-year-old hopeful turned and ran as fast as his short legs could carry him, toward the house, while we followed at our leisure.

"You'd scarcely believe that my boy had a bad throat disease when I brought him here? said Mr. T. interrogatively. "Not much indication of it now." "No, for he hasn't got it now. A year in Florida has cured him; but we never could have raised him up North."

We were received with genuine Yankee hospitality by Mr. T.'s family. The house was poor, but was sufficient while there were no neighbor within two miles to see it.

After dinner, which was bountiful in the extreme and represented the best the garden afforded, Mr. T. went on with his remarks in regard to the damaged orange crop.

"There is an Iowa paper," said he, "which announces the loss at $50,000,000. Now, any grove owner will tell you, now that they have found out the facts, that it isn't a cent over $2,000,000—in fact, it is a large estimate. Only part of the crop is hurt, the rest having already been shipped. Is it any worse for Florida than it is for a northern state to lose part of a crop of wheat? Or is it as bad as the desolation caused by the grasshopper scourge? How many times these things have deprived hundreds of people of their winter apples and made them dependent on charity and subscriptions lists. That is something Florida will never have to do while there are deer and palmetto cabbages in the woods and fish in the lakes.

"All we want is justice, and hard facts in place of hasty reports." Since that time other and more extensive grove owners have confirmed these views. Great satisfaction is felt throughout Florida that the injury to the groves is slight in comparison with what they at first feared.

Indignation is felt toward some New York papers which go so far as to say that the people were frozen to death near Green Cove Springs, in this state; this is too absurd for any consideration. Florida is again warm and balmy, and her people rejoice in the prospect of another fifty years lease of life.

SOJOURNER.

A Literary Entertainment.

A musical and literary entertainment, which was heartily enjoyed by a fair-sized audience, was given last evening at the First Presbyterian church, corner of Tenth and Forest avenue, by the Young People's union. Previous to the entertainment some routine business was transacted, at the conclusion of which the programme for the evening was rendered. It opened with an overture by the Strauss Mandolin club, followed by the Excelsior Glee club, which sang "Evening Bells," and "The Knight's Farewell." Next came a humorous recital by Walter Sanford, followed by a piano solo by Miss Caruthers. Some selections from Il Travatore and several popular airs were then rendered by the Strauss Mandolin club.

The exercise of the evening closed with the song "Farewell," by the Glee club, and some appropriate remarks by Mr. Harry Brown, the president of the association, in which he took occasion to express the sentiment of the society in thanking the members of the two well known musical organizations for contributing so much to the success of the entertainment.

MARKETS ELSEWHERE.

Wheat Lower but Strong at the Decline—Provisions Stronger—Corn Very Weak.

Norton & Worthington furnish the following from their own wires:

Wheat opened at 84½c for May—½c lower than yesterday's close—declined to 84¼@84⅜c and has since ruled firm, with apparently plenty of buyers at about 84½c. It is noteworthy that so far this week's market is almost an exact repetition of that of last week. Then May wheat sold at 86⅛c on Monday, declined by Wednesday morning to 84¼@84⅜, which proved to be the lowest point, and gradually grew stronger until the close of the week. Yesterday May wheat sold up to 86¼c, broke sharply, sells to-day down to 84¼@84⅜c, which is the lowest point so far, and now seems to be working very strong again. The close at 1 o'clock was 84⅝, ¾c.

This advance was based on an upturn in New York of ½c and good buying in Chicago by leading traders. We have the following dispatch from New York dated 1:40: "This market is very strong with May now 97c. Clews, Hickox, Carrathers, Milwine and Thompson are buying. The crowd is anxious and appears to be short."

In Chicago the principal buyers at the advance were Orr, Crittenden & Co. and Milwine & Bodman.

Provisions were a good deal stiffer to-day. Ribs advanced sharply, lard was higher and pork scored an upturn of 17½c. Our Mr. Norton appears to have led the market from an inside point point of view when he telgraphed us yesterday, as published in THE STAR, that it would do to begin buying pork at $9.75.

Henry Clews & Co. telegraph us that the New York market is strong and advancing on English cables reporting severe weather.

Consols closed to-day six points lower than yesterday.

The total amount of gold engaged for export so far to-day is $1,877,000.

Our St. Louis correspondent says: "The market here is weak on bright and spring-like weather and the still unsettled state of business caused by the strike, which gives no sign of an early solution. This checks operations on the part of conservative trades and that is no outside business. On the 11:30 call there was not a single trade in wheat."

Corn in Chicago broke to 39⅛ cents for May this morning, the heavy receipts and the early weakness in wheat serving to create an easier feeling. Some good buying checked a further decline, and it closed comparatively firm at an advance of ¼ of a cent from the lowest point.

Receipts of grain at Chicago were 76 cars of wheat, 736 of corn, of 161, 7 of rye and 76 of barley.

Estimated receipts for to-morrow are 50 cars of wheat, 450 of corn and 120 of oats.

Official receipts of hogs yesterday were 16,024; shipments, 5,179; left over, 4,000; estimated receipts for to-day, 15,000; estimated receipts for to-morrow, 15,000.

At one p. m. Reports just in announce that six loads of spring and four loads of red winter wheat had been bought in New York for export. It looks as if the exporters, who were free buyers of features in that market this morning, wanted to get loaded up before they announced their cash purchases and started the advance.

Calls on May wheat good all next week were offered in Chicago this morning at 87½c.

Clearances of wheat from the seaboard to-day aggregated 69,391 bushels.

Severe snow storms are prevailing in many parts of Great Britain and the weather in London was bitterly cold.

The following table shows, in bushels, the changes in the visible supply of cereals since last week:

	New York Report.	Chicago Report.
Wheat, decrease	417,136	418,711
Corn, increase	1,647,810	1,650,966
Oats, increase		76,108

THE MARKETS.

Stocks in Europe—Indian Shipments Falling Off—Australasia's Decrease in Supplsie—Pork in Stronger Hands—Large Stocks of Corn and Depression in Values.

French Bros., grain and commission merchants, board of trade building, have the following advices:

CHICAGO, March 15.—Cables this morning were somewhat conflicting, but upon the whole indicate steady markets in England and the continent. Stocks in England are getting very low, and shipments from India and other points are falling off sharply. But the visible supply in this country showing a decrease of less than a half million bushels was a great disappointment to the bulls and gave the bears an opportunity to start prices off on the opening with a break of about half cent from last night's closing. Holders of put privileges and some good shorts came in and their buying stopped the decline at 84¼ cents for May. It is thought also that some buying to-day has been for Mr. Armour's account, and that Ream covered some of his short wheat through brokers while ostensibly and openly selling quite freely. A late authentic report from London says that so great is the scarcity of wheat in some parts of the interior of Russia, that purchases are being made at the seaboard there for shipment to the interior; Australia, instead of having 18,000,000 bushels for export this year as it had last, has only about 7,000,000 bushels. India, although doing its utmost during the past six months has only exported 20,000,000 bushels in that time and is now only shipping about half a million bushels per week. Stocks in England since January 1 have decreased over 6,000,000 bushels and the amount afloat is not increasing materially. The only big stocks anywhere are in the visible supply of this country and that visible supply will largely be used at home. A very severe snow storm and bitterly cold weather is reported in England to-day. The spring-like weather prevailing here and the unsettled labor question adds to the bear feeling and the Chicago crowd is inclined to work on the bear side. The mills at Minneapolis have not been able to work full time on account of lack of water. These mills would all be running to their full capacity had they water facilities. It is expected that the water will come up and be ample within the next two weeks. The demand for flour is good and supplies are decreasing steadily. The close on wheat is firmer at slightly advanced values.

The large increase in visible supply of corn and continued heavy receipts of that cereal came opportunely for the bears and enabled them to cause a further decline in prices. Very little interest is manifested in corn and unless something turns up not now expected the probability is that corn will go considerably lower yet. The export movement is falling off and the movement from first hands is growing daily. Stocks are large.

Pork opened weak but heavy shorts covering and some packers bought quite freely. The market advanced quite easily and held firm. It is believed that most of the country holdings have been closed out and that strong houses are taking hold now. Cudahy was a free buyer this morning.

Expected receipts to-morrow are 50 cars wheat, 440 cars corn and 16,000 hogs. Receipts of corn to-day were about 400,000 bushels.

The Life of Beaconsfield.

From the London Truth.

There has been a row about the publication of Lord Beaconsfield's charming letters, as Lord Rowton regards them, as likely seriously to diminish the interest of the biography which he has been projecting for the last five years, and of which, I believe, not a single chapter has yet been written. I hear, moreover, that Mr. Ralph Disraeli refused to lend the original of these letters to Lord Rowton, as there were so many passages in them referring to the most private family affairs. Lord Rowton is therefore exceedingly wroth, and threatens to abandon the work. It would be no great loss, as we have yet to learn that he possesses any literary faculty, and it is very doubtful whether his biography would have been satisfactory, more especially as it was to have been supervised by the queen. I recommend Lord Beaconsfield's representatives to request Mr. Froude to undertake the work, and if he would only adopt the same principles which guided him in his "Life" of Carlyle, he would produce the most interesting and important biography of the century.

DAILY CAPITAL NOTES.

FOUR POSTMASTERS OUT OF A JOB

Because their Offices Were Abolished—How a Public Document Disappeared—The Free Coinage Bill—Conkling's Return to Politics Creates a Row—Notes.

Special Telegram to The Star.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—On the recommendation of Postmaster Hyde, indorsed by Congressman O'Neill, the postoffices at Cheltenham, Gladys and Rincleville have been abolished and four additional carriers have been allowed the St. Louis office to make this service. One of the new carriers will be mounted. The application for a branch office at the Union depot has been denied, and Postmaster Hyde will be so informed. Two of the four postmasters nominated yesterday are for Heard's district. Wm. R. Walker succeeds Postmaster Epstein, of Boonville, who died recently, and it is proposed to remove Postmaster Laughlin, of Brownsville, upon the recommendation of a postal inspector, who is understood to have reported general inefficiency in the conduct of the office. W. G. Buckney is named for the place. Dockery also got an appointment, James T. Dunn, being nominated for Stansbury, Mo., the Republican incumbent having resigned. The other appointment was in Clardy's district, Samuel S. Harris being nominated for Cape Girardeau. A new postoffice has been established on the Rock Island railroad in DeKalb county to be known as Weatherby, and Paul Riggs appointed postmaster.

An ingenious theory has appeared in print about the loss of the report made by the inspectors who inspected the St. Louis postoffice last summer which reflects credit on the inventive genius of its authors, but does not harmonize with the facts in the case. It reads plausible to say the report was quietly taken from the files to send privately to the senate committee, but all the plausibility of the theory is lost when it is understood that the report was only found to be missing when looked for in order to send it to the committee. There was no occasion for any secrecy or sharp practice in getting this paper into the hands of the committee. It is an official communication, and the president has plainly stated that all official papers will be transmitted when asked for. It was a matter of definite understanding that this paper would be so sent if requested by Senator Conger's committee, General Vilas having been seen before the request was made, and having given the assurance that there was nothing in this report which would not be regarded as official. With this assurance a resolution was offered in the senate committee directing that the papers in this particular case be sent for in order to bring this report to the front. When all this arrangement was carried out the startling fact was disclosed that the report could not be found. That is the true story and the whole story.

By unanimous consent the house decided to consider Monday's business to-morrow. This was done on motion of Congressman Bland so as not to miss the opportunity to fix a day for the consideration of the report on the free coinage bill—on the third Monday. The committees are called for motions to suspend the rules and the coinage committee will be reached on the next call. Mr. Bland will move to suspend the rules and adopt an order fixing the next three days for the consideration of the silver bill and from day to day thereafter until disposed of. There has been more or less counting of noses in preparation for this motion and it is believed it will carry, although it is expected most of the anti-silver men will vote against it. The silver men will vote solid. Some anti-siver men who are anxious to go on record will vote the same with them.

It is said about twenty nominations are already marked for rejection. Among these are Solicitor General Goode, Solicitor Montgomery, of the interior department; Warren Green, son of Dr. Norvian Green, of the Western Union Telegraph company, who was appointed consul general to Japan, together with a number of international revenue collectors and postmasters. Five prominent appointees in Louisiana are reported as on the list, three internal revenue collectors, the district attorney and United States marshal, besides a number of postmasters. Postmasters at Hamilton, Mo., Detroit, Sioux City Vicksburg and La Porte, Ind., are to be rejected if the Republicans who have matured this plan can carry out their programme because although nominated to succeed suspended officials, their commissions have been sent to them since the meeting of the senate contrary to the provisions of the revised statutes, which prohibit the removal of officials during the sessions of congress without the consent of the senate.

The judiciary committee has not yet reached the territorial judges, the pending question being whether the law which exempts judges of the United States courts from removal during the recess of congress, applies to federal justices in the territories.

A gentleman who has just returned from New York reports the announcement of Conkling's return to politics has not been received with any great approval by the Republican leaders in New York. The expectation that all other senatorial candidates would withdraw whenever Conkling's name is presented, the gentleman says, is not going to be realized. Frank Hiscock is openly and actively in the field with a numerous following of influential friends, while ex-Governor Cornell is making little concealment of his hope. Ex-President Arthur is also reported as quietly working to shape things in his own interest and the whole band of energetic politicians who were enthusiastic supporters of Conkling now have their own conflicting aspirations to subserve. So the suggestion that he wants to resume his old-time position of political autocrat has evoked a perfect howl of opposition in which some old-time friends as well as old-time enemies have joined.

A Very Important Decision.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The secretary of the interior rendered a decision in the ex parte case of James Britton, reversing the decision of the commissioner of the general land office of Nov. 12, 1885, which had held that, as under section 2,261 revised statutes, a person is entitled to but one pre-emption right he could not after perfecting one pre-emption right be permitted to commute a homestead entry into. A case entry under section 23, of the revised statutes as this would be equivalent to a second endorsement of same right in respect to interests involved. This decision is regarded by the land office officials as most as important public lands decision made by the Interior Department in many a year.

A Trap for Edmunds.

Special Telegram to The Star.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Mr. Blaine is being credited with an attempt to trip up Mr. Edmunds in his present controversy with the president. This statement is founded on the reading of passages from Mr. Blaine's book by Mr. Kenna last week, and on criticisms on the senate's course passed by James Manley, Mr. Blaine's right hand man, who has been here for some time. Republican senators nearest Mr. Blaine say there is nothing in the statement as far as they know.

Hahn's Escort.

Special Telegram to The Star

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The president of the senate this morning appointed Senators Eustis, Butler and Vance a committee to escort the remains of the late Congressman Hahn, to Louisiana. An effort was made to obtain Republican representation on the committee but without effect. Mr. Hahn was a Republican.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Postmasters appointed in Missouri: Carlow, J. B. Marley, vice Crain removed; Halfway, D. F. Suter, vice Simons resigned; Irondale, E. Arnold, vice Bean removed; Roubideux, A. H. Caldwell, vice Bridges resigned.

Favor a Repeal.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The house committee on public lands to-day agreed to report favorably upon the bill to repeal the preemption timber culture and desert land law.

Woman Suffrage.

Special Telegram to The Star.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Representative Warner introduced a bill providing for a commission to adjust claims of loyal citizens for the use and damage of property by United States forces during the late war. Senator Cockrell presented a petition of Mrs. Charlotte A. Cleveland, and forty-three others, of St. Louis, in favor of woman suffrage.

Committee Work.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The appropriations committee to-day agreed to report on the urgent deficiency appropriation bill as it came from the senate. It was agreed to that expenditures made on account of General Grant's funeral authorized by General Hancock should be paid. The committee is decidedly opposed to pay the remaining $118,000 for bill presented.

Forty-ninth Congress.

SENATE.

The chair laid before the senate a letter from the secretary of the navy transmitting information, copies of drawings and reports of the recent survey of the Nicaragua route made by Civil Engineer A. C. Menocal, of the navy. Referred.

The chair laid before the senate a letter from the secretary of the interior transmitting information in relation to land grant railroads in Kansas.

The senate this afternoon passed a bill to increase the pensions of widows and dependent relatives from $8 to $12 a month. The bill passed as it came from the house, and now only requires the signature of the president to become a law.

Mr. Morrill, from the committee on finance reported adversely the bill introduced by Mr. Mahone to allow drawbacks on imported tobacco when manufactured in this country and afterward exported. Placed on the calendar.

Among other reports was one by Mr. Blair, from the committee on pensions, being a bill for the relief of soldiers of the late war honorably discharged after six months service who are disabled, for the support of dependent parents of soldiers who died in the service or from disabilities contracted therein. The bill was placed on the calendar.

On motion of Mr. Van Wyck the house bill increasing the pensions of soldiers' widows was taken up.

Several amendments were offered and agreed to, but after considerable debate by Messrs. Butler, Logan, Cockrell, Ingalls and Jackson, the fear being general that widows' increase of pensions would be postponed by sending the bill to the house with so many amendments that would involve debate, the motion made by Mr. Wilson to reconsider the senate's action in amending the bill was agreed to. All amendments were then disagreed to and the bill passed as it came from the house. It now needs only the president's signature to become a law. It increases pensions of widows from $8 to $12 a month.

Yesterday's Congress.

Senate—A resolution providing that the 30th of April shall be the day for the beginning of the successive administration of the government hereafter was referred to the judiciary committee.—The bill for increasing the pensions of widows of deceased soldiers from $8 to $12 a month was taken up, and an amendment providing that the pensions of children who are idiots or insane should continue during the existence of such idiocy or insanity agreed to.—Resolutions of regret on the death of Representative Hahn, of Louisiana, were adopted and the senate adjourned out of respect to the memory of the deceased.

THE STATE CAPITAL.

Gossip at Jefferson City—Last Night's Reception at the Executive Mansion.

Special Telegram to The Star.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 16.—The governor's reception last evening was a grand affair, well attended and agreeably pleasant and entertaining to all persons present. The evident absence of ostentatious display and the anxiety to make all the guests feel at perfect ease were notable features of the occasion. The supper or luncheon was sumptious and bountiful. The party broke up at 1 o'clock. The Marmaduke guards, of Kansas City, enjoyed the special distinction shown them. They are mostly young men and were quite favorites with the ladies. They formed many pleasant acquaintances and will doubtless feel like revisiting this city to the next reception at the mansion.

Governor Marmaduke had a lengthy consultation to-day with T. W. Philips and Sheriff McAffrey, of Taney county, concerning the troubles in that county with a secret organization known as "Ball Knobbers," who have disturbed the peace and good name of the county. These two gentlemen claim to represent the interests of the peace element of the county, and are opposing the formation and arming of a military organization in the county asked for by another delegation that recently called upon the governor from said county. Governor Marmaduke made a fine impression upon these gentlemen, and they leave to-day very hopeful that their local troubles will soon terminate, and that law and order will soon supplant the bitterness and estrangements of the present.

THE MALLOY CASE.

Some Exciting Scenes at the Preliminary Examination.

Special Telegram to The Star.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., March 16.—The court was greeted with a small audience this morning. The first witness, Chas. Graham, the 13-year-old son of George E. Graham, in his evidence stated that while living at Elgin, Ill., his father nearly every night went to see Mrs. Molloy, remaining until 10 and 11 o'clock.

"Do you know what he went there for?"

Mr. Traverse made strenuous objections for the defense to the admission of this kind of testimony. He said his clients were on trial for murder, and such testimony was only for the purpose of blackening the character of Mrs. Malloy and Cora Lee, and had no bearing upon the present case. He made a passionate appeal for his clients that their characters be not further traduced, which brought the ever ready tears to Mrs. Malloy's eyes. In answer, the prosecution stated they desired to show adultery between Geo. E. Graham, Emma Molloy and Cora Lee, and should their criminal relations, which would prove a motive for destroying the legal wife. The defense, in answer, said the question of character was one which had to be met sooner or later. They would meet it now. They did not propose that the characters of their clients should be dragged into question; that their characters had already been traduced by a villianous press for which it would have to answer. At the noon hour the counsel were still citing authorities, arguing the point in question. There has been a great deal of speculation here as to the whereabouts of Frank Molley as he disappeared shortly after the quarrel with Graham, some even going so far as to advise another search of the Molley farm thinking he may have been foully dealt with. Last night a telegram was received by Detective Davis from the mayor of LaPorte Ind., stating that Frank Molley was there; that he was possessed of several pieces of important information and should be immediately returned to Springfield.

Two Resignations Tendered.

LONDON, March 16.—Despite all theories to the contrary it is learned to-day authoritively that both Joseph Chamberlain, president of the local government board, and Trevelyan, secretary for Scotland, have placed their resignations in the hands of Gladstone. The premier has, however, declined to accept them. His answer to the tender of them was a conciliatory one. He suggested to both gentlemen that they defer a final decision on their resignations.

Under this personal discussion the question at issue is between them and him. To this both have assented. It is now known that the subject of dispute between the prime minister and Chamberlain and Trevelyan is Gladstone's expropriation scheme. The exact sum which will be required to buy out all land owners of the country according to the premier's plan is £150,000,000 sterling. The proposition to increase the public debt of Great Britain that much in order to purchase peace in Ireland, is claimed by Radical leaders in the cabinet to be asking too much for what will be obtained. There was to have been a special meeting of the cabinet to-day. It has, however, been postponed for the purpose, owing to the resigning of the ministers, of time for reflection in the hope that both will change their minds. Their personal friends declare neither Chamberlain nor Trevelyan will alter his purpose, refusing to participate in a government which is to be responsible for Gladstone's Irish land scheme.

The Molloy Case.

Special Telegram to The Star.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., March 16.—At the Molloy-Lee examination this morning, Chas. Neiswanger was recalled and corrected technical points in his former testimony. Charlie Graham, the 13 year old son of the murderer, was put on the stand and told of his first acquaintance with Mrs. Molloy, at Elgin, Ill. Graham used to call on Mrs. Molloy nearly every evening and remain until 10 or 11 o'clock. Mr. Travers, for the defence, objected to the witness stating why Graham went there, claiming it was an attempt to prove bad character. The state claimed it was to establish the motive for the crime. If Mrs. Molloy had illicit relations with Graham, there was a motive shown. A long discussion followed.

REGISTER.

ONLY two days more of registration. Every man now desiring good government should register and on election day cast his vote.

IT IS believed that the house committee on education will report adversely on Mr. BLAIR'S bill, which recently passed the senate. It is doubtful if the bill could pass the house, even with a favorable report, but this adverse action of the committee will, in all probability, effectually kill the measure.

KANSAS CITY'S VALUE.

City Assessor EDWARDS'S report of the valuation of city property for 1886 shows that Kansas City has been growing in wealth as well as population. The total valuation for 1885 was $31,678,521, for 1886 $46,320,100. As this valuation is made on a 40 per cent basis of the actual market value of property the real value of Kansas City's taxable wealth is $115,000,000. The assessed value of real estate in the old city limits for 1886 is $29,030,040, in the territory added by the extension of the limits $7,805,270. Of course this estimate of $7,805,270 for the new territory is low even on a 40 per cent basis, for the Porter farm, which was taken in by the extension, is worth over $3,000,000 alone. Any estimate of suburban land is worthless before it can be recorded on the assessor's books because of the rapid advance in values. On Blue avenue alone the increase in real estate values between the old and the new city limits amounts to over $300,000 a week. Land to be accurately assessed in Kansas City would have to be given a new valuation every week.

A QUESTIONABLE OFFER.

An Ohio man—of course he's an Ohio man—advertises for a husband for his daughter, who is 15 years old. Don't jump at this proposition too quickly, but thoroughly consider the matter. As the young lady will not be of age for several years yet, you have ample time to look at the question in all its phases. The father of this Buckeye beauty also offers to the man who will consent to play the role of son-in-law $5,000 in cash and a well stocked farm. Sometimes a man is willing to marry a girl without such extraordinary inducements being held out by her father. This young lady, however, has a pair of feet which are considered by the natives of her town—Sandusky—the eighth wonder of the world. She has a pair of feet which far overshadow any that either St. Louis or Chicago has yet produced. She wears a No. 30 shoe, costing $55 per pair. Three goat skins are required to make her one pair of shoes, the same quantity of leather ordinarily used in the manufacture of eight pairs of ladies' shoes. It will be seen at a glance that even $5,000 is a small inducement to wed this enormous pair of hoofs. If she should live twenty-five years after marriage and wear out four pairs of shoes per year, she would have exceeded the cash donated by $500, and as she would be only 40 then, with a prospect of twenty years more of life, and she would entail a tax of $220 per year on her husband, which would probably consume all the profits of the farm, and thus keep her husband's "nose to the grindstone." Then there are other considerations. A woman possessing such an enormous pair of feet must necessarily be physically very strong in order to lift them from the ground when walking. Now a person who is noted for vigorous strength is generally equally noted for a good appetite, and it is possible this young lady with feet eight times their proper size has an appetite for sixteen. This being the case her husband never could feed her single handed, but would have to let contracts like the government does for supplies by wholesale! Fancy the head of a family advertising for bids for furnishing so many tons of beef, bread and other food, to be delivered semi-annually at the city of Sandusky! Not having the United States treasury to draw upon, he would soon become a bankrupt, and the farm and what was left of the cash donation would be attached to pay his debts. If this is not enough to deter fortune hunters from trying their luck, let them take one other thing into consideration. It pains us to mention it, but as we are endeavoring to keep susceptible young men from falling into a trap, it will have to come out. Suppose the young lady should have cold feet! Everybody knows what that means in an ordinary mortal, but when it has been exaggerated eight fold, holy MOSES! She would chill the very air in an eighteen-foot room.

Her husband would be waked up in the middle of the night and think he had made a mistake when he came home from the lodge, and gone to sleep in the family ice box. Altogether, we think young men had better fight shy of the prize beauty, and wait till the old man raises the "ante" to fifty thousand dollars. If they have any fears of the rheumatism they will fight as shy of this offer as they would of a Polar iceberg. Beware, young man!

He Was Quite Cool.

From Harper's Magazine.

"The coolest man I ever knew was old Victor de St. Hilaire, the colonel of an infantry regiment that saw some service in Algeria," said Colonel Henry Dubois—one of a party of French officers. "Now it happened that in Colonel Hilaire's regiment there was a peppery young sub-lieutenant, who was as hot as the colonel was cool. With him it was always as you English say, 'a word and a blow, and the blow first.' He had fought so many duels that the soldiers used to call him 'Sudden Death,' and to say that the best way to end the war would be for him to challenge the enemy's whole army, man by man. Well, one day this lieutenant had committed some fault, for which the colonel gave him such a scolding that the young fellow's hot blood couldn't bear it any longer. Quick as lightning he whipped out a pistol and fired right at St. Hilaire's face, so close that the muzzle almost touched him. But the pistol missed fire, and the colonel said, quite coolly, 'Forty-eight hours' arrest for not keeping your arms in proper order.'" "And was that all the lieutenant got?" asked a dozen voices at once, in undisguised amazement. "That was all, and I can tell you that he thought it was quite enough. Ha! general, good evening. I was just telling these gentlemen how you once put me under arrest for not having my pistols in working order."

An Armed Posse Searching for a Colored Criminal.

Brutal Assault Upon a Sick and Helpless Woman.

Two Despondent Women Swallow a Deadly Poison.

The Real Estate Market—Other City News of To-day.

Ready to Lynch Him.

The young colored brute who made a criminal assault upon a little girl at Quindaro last Saturday has been heard from again, and his last crime has so incensed the people of Wyandotte county that they have organized posses, and will hunt the fiend to his death. They are on his trail and will follow it day and night until the fugitive is caught and justly punished for his fearful crimes.

Monday morning he appeared near Kerr's school house and committed an assault upon a sick and helpless woman whom he found in a house he visited. She was too weak to defeat the purposes of the fiend, and no one was near to render her help. After assaulting the lady he robbed the house of its contents and then fled. He was last seen near the Allcutt packing house. After leaving the house where the assault was made he forcibly obtained food from Howard Williams's family and threatened to kill the members if they told of his robbery.

When the husband of the sick lady returned home and learned what had occurred he armed himself and accompanied by a number of neighbors, armed with shotguns, started out to capture the fugitive. The party was unable to find him and this morning reported the affair to Chief Serviss, of Kansas City, Kas. The chief at once sent out posters, worded as follows:

WANTED FOR ROBBERY AND RAPE.

A negro—name unknown—description as follows: About 20 years old, hight about six feet, slim build, blue black, wore a long black overcoat, light colored dress coat, black pants, black hat, thin face, smooth with a little beard on chin; was last seen Monday morning, March 15, at 10 a. m. going in the direction of Allcut's packing house, near Armourdale.

A reward of $120 is offered by citizens and will be given for the arrest of the above criminal, he having in the most brutal manner attempted to commit a rape upon a mere child, Miss Morasch, and also upon a sick lady living near Kerr's school house, coupling the latter act with the crime of robber. All citizens are earnestly requested to aid in bringing the above criminal to justice. Address all information to

O. K. SERVISS,
Chief Police, Kansas City, Kas.

Parties well armed left for different directions to hunt the criminal, this morning and during the day parties were made up and quietly left to join the ranks. No loud talk is being indulged in, but if the demon is caught he will be quickly lynched. The negro is known in West Kansas City as a dangerous person.

At noon no word had been received from the different posses, but he will probably be run down before dark.

TWO WOMEN WEARY OF LIFE.

A Fallen Woman Commits Suicide—A Deserted Woman Fails to End Her Existence.

Daisy Kelly, an inmate of Nellie Sherman's bagnio, on West Fourth street, committed suicide at 1:30 o'clock last night by taking two ounces of carbolic acid, ninety-five per cent strong.

She had had trouble with a gentleman friend and during the evening drank very heavily. About 12:30 o'clock this morning she became so boisterous that Miss Sherman had to order her to her room. Some fifteen minutes after she had retired she begun to yell and scream, which caused someone to go to her room. She complained of having a smothering feeling and wanted a doctor. Owing to the fact that she had been drinking, no particular attention was paid to the request, though she received some little attention at the time. Later on another of the inmates went to the room. This was the woman with whom she had generally associated and to her she said: "I have taken poison and want to die. You can't do anything for me. Just let me rest my head on your heart and die." Medical aid proved of no avail, for her stomach had had been literally burnt out by the terrible dose of acid, and at 1:30 o'clock she died in great agony.

The deceased was 19 years old, and has been in the city some three years, all the time as an inmate of the same bagnio. She came here from Texas, and nothing is known of her relatives. She will be buried in Union cemetery to-morrow afternoon at 2:30.

The coroner held an inquest at the house this morning, and after hearing all the evidence, the jury brought in a verdict in accordance with the above facts.

AN UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT.

Mrs. John A. Ferbrache, who recently lived with her husband at the corner of Independence avenue and Charlotte street, attempted suicide by taking an ounce of chloral, while at the house of a friend, about 5:30 o'clock last evening. Three physicians were called and after hours of hard work, succeeded in saving her life. She said to a STAR reporter, this morning, that she wishes they had let her die, and if she could now get more chloral she would make another attempt. She is without funds, her husband has deserted her and she was driven to desperation. An effort will be made to have her taken to the city hospital. She stated that she married Ferbrache at Pueblo, Col., three years ago and that no trouble had ever clouded their home. Her husband was working for Ellithorpe, who puts in air cushions. About a month ago she received word from him that he did not want to see her again, and since then has found no trace of him. She went to Murray Ia., where his parents reside, but they did not know where he was. While there she claims to have learned that his right name was James, and not Ferbrache, the name under which he married her. Growing desperate through these troubles, she returned to this city, and yesterday made the almost successful attempt at taking her own life. She says that should she recover and meet her lost husband, she would shoot him and then shoot herself.

SPECIAL SESSION.

Debate Upon a Mandamus Writ—Other Business of Importance.

The council met in special session last night and passed a number of ordinances locating water mains on the east side of the city. While the council was vigorously at work passing the ordinances Alderman Ford took occasion to rebuke the members for their inattention paid to the number of hydrants being located. He said for all the council knew it was voting away thousands of dollars in locating the hydrants, and he objected to any such recklessness.

The mayor returned two grading ordinances without his signature, for the reason that only a small majority of the property owners was represented in the petitions, and if the work should be done the city would be liable for damages. The veto of one was sustained but the other ordinance was passed over the veto.

The ordinance to pave Ninth street from Grand avenue to Forest avenue, caused some little discussion, a few members attempting to get it referred, while others worked to secure its passage. The latter outnumbered the former and defeated the motion to refer. The council then devoted an hour or more to the consideration of ordinances to establish the grades of various streets.

The mayor sent no less than four special messages to the council last night and one of the number was in reference to an ordinance levying a special assessment upon property owners on Fifth street to pay for the work of grading the street. The council has had at least three or four very warm discussions over this ordinance and when it was called up last night the members were ready for an oratorical fight. A writ of mandamus has been issued and will be served upon the mayor and members of the council and unless the ordinance is passed the city fathers will be placed under arrest, and possibly, sent to jail. Alderman Ford made a savage speech, in which he denounced the contractor who had failed to pay his men, and said he for one was willing to go to jail for six months if his imprisonment would give the laboring men their dues. He wanted to have the case carried to the supreme court on a writ of error. Alderman Salisbury said he would do anything he could for the working men, but the council would do the men no good and the city harm by fighting the case through the courts. He made a very sensible and eloquent speech. Alderman Moss was willing to have the mandamus writ served, as also was Alderman Granfield. Other members of the council spoke in favor of passing the ordinance. Some of them evidently thought that it would not be policy to allow themselves to be thrown in jail just as the spring compaign is opening.

The Independence, Kansas City & Park Railroad Preparing to Go Out Blue Avenue.

The Independence, Kansas City & Park Railroad company has determined to build its line on the Fifteenth street boulevard, to connect with the Fifteenth street cable line. The incorporators have laid out a magnificent big park on Blue avenue at the Blue river and propose to make it one of the most attractive public resorts in the west. It is probable now that electricity will be the motor employed, and that the line will connect with the present cable line and the elevated road to Wyandotte, or Kansas City, Kas. Preparations to build at once are being made. Engineer W. B. Knight has been secured to generally supervise the work of construction. Mr. Knight has had experience in building suburban railroads of this character and the directors are being advised by him in all the important features of construction.

Benton's Hair Grower.

All who are BALD; all who are becoming BALD, all who do not want to be BALD, all who are troubled with DANDRUFF, or ITCHING of the scalp; should use Benton's Hair Grower. Eighty per cent of those using it have grown hair. It never fails to stop the hair from falling. Through sickness and fevers the hair sometimes falls off in a short time, and although the person may have remained bald for years, if you use Benton's Hair Grower according to directions you are sure of a growth of hair. In hundreds of cases we have produced a good growth of Hair on those who have been bald and glazed for years, we have fully substantiated the following facts:

We grow Hair in 80 cases out of 100, no matter how long bald.

Unlike other preparations, it contains no sugar of lead, or vegetable or mineral poisons.

It is a specific for falling hair, dandruff, and itching of the scalp.

The Hair Grower is a hair food, and its composition is almost exactly like the oil which supplies the hair with its vitality.

DOUBLE AND TRIPLE STRENGTH.

When the skin is very tough and hard, and the follicle is apparently effectually closed, the single strength will sometimes fail to reach the papilla; in such cases the double or triple strength should be used in connection with the single, using them alternately.

Price. Single strength, $1.00; Double strength, $2.00; Triple strength, $3.00. If your druggists have not got it we will send it prepaid on receipt of price. BENTON HAIR GROWER CO.,

A Man's Judgment!

IS A PART OF HIS FORTUNE.

Pause and reflect ere you part with your money. It is well to look before you buy. Turn this question over in your mind. Will it pay you to leave your order with a merchant tailor for a Spring Overcoat, Suit or pair of Trousers, when you can get the very same goods of us, made equally as well into garments that fit perfectly, that are trimmed as well, cut the same, just as stylish, for fully one-third less money? Remember, that where a merchant tailor gives you three or four or a half dozen different patterns to select from, we give you a hundred. Everything that is new and stylish in the way of Clothing for Men, Boys and Children you will find upon our tables.

We sell FINE READY MADE CLOTHING, as fine as there is in the world, as different from most other ready made Clothing sold in this city as day is from night. IT IS THE MAN OF NO JUDGMENT we are afraid of. We want your patronage; we know we are justly entitled to it; we know our Clothing is the best; we know it is the cheapest. Take fit and style of garments, and quality and style of goods of which they are made into consideration, and your verdict will always be SADLER'S CLOTHING IS THE BEST; and as the best is always cheapest, it will pay you to buy of us.

New Spring Styles in Clothing, Hats, fine Neckwear and Shirts are now ready for your inspection.

To all whom it may concern. Notice is hereby given that the undersigned J. S. Chick, R. W. Wood and B. F. Wood, will, on the 9th day of April, A. D. 1886, at the law office of Holmes & Ward, northwest corner of Missouri avenue and Main street, in Kansas City, Missouri, between the hours of 8 o'clock a. m. and 5 o'clock p. m. of said day, proceed to take the depositions of John C. McCoy, H. M. Northrup and John Campbell, in pursuance of a commission issued February 20, 1886, by the clerk of the circuit court of Jackson county, Missouri, at said city upon the petition of the said parties hereto, J. S. Chick, R. W. Wood and B. F. Wood, and in accordance with the statute made and provided to perpetuate testimony.

The object of said testimony is to prove that the land lying north of blocks "A," "C," "D," "F" and "G," of the old town reserve of Kansas City, Jackson county, Missouri, and which is part of said reserve and which was not laid out into lots or blocks by the commissioner appointed in the partition suit of John C. McCoy against Jacob Ragan and the other owners of the old town reserve of Kansas City aforesaid for the partition of said reserve begun at Independence, Jackson county, Missouri, May 1, 1856, was left by agreement of the parties to said suit undivided, and was left by said commissioner undivided intentionally and according to agreement between the parties to said suit; and that at the time the commissioners were making the plat and survey of the lots and blocks laid out by them for division in said suit aided by part of the parties to said suit, that John Campbell tried to get them to give the ground left on the north side of said lots and blocks for a street, but that they refused to do so; and that it was left undivided by the commissioner in said suit for the purpose of enabling the owners of said reserve to continue their control of the river front along the north line of said reserve; and that at the time it was left it was about eighty feet wide at the west end and about two hundred at the east end, and that at that time H. M. Northrup tried to buy it for the use of his ferry from the owners of said reserve, but that they refused to sell to him; and that the taking of said deposition will be continued from day to day until completed, at the same place and between the hours aforesaid.
